Schedule October 14, 2013

8:30am-9:00 Check-in & Continental Breakfast

9:00-9:30 Welcome & Changes in OIG

Oregon Interviewing Guideline Changes: How forensic interviewers are now asking questions, and what everyone else needs to know.

Evidence-based changes in the Oregon Interviewing Guidelines are impacting how Forensic Interviewers are now asking questions. This is a short overview of the new changes and provides information to all other investigative parties. Professionals not involved in the investigative process will gain knowledge as to how forensic interviews are conducted and why questions are asked the way they are.

9:45am-11:00am

1A Karly's Law: What You See & What To Do
Deanna St. Germain

This session will provide an overview of Karly's Law which pertains to law enforcement and DHS/Child Welfare personnel. This session will also review the common skin findings or injuries that are observable on a child & will serve as a primer on child abuse for other professionals who come into contact with children.

1B Teen Dating Violence
Dane Jensen & Katie DeClue

Dane Jensen and Katie DeClue are actively working with Union County schools to create awareness on Teen Dating Violence. Dane and Katie provide this training to teens ages 14-16 years old. Topics include healthy relationships, unhealthy relationships, types of abuse, warning signs of abuse and much more. This session provides an overview of this much needed preventative training and how it is impacting Union County.

1C Initial Responder Interview
Celeste Hasbrouck

This training is designed for first responders who are working with children who need to be interviewed in the field. Participants will learn the basics of Oregon Interviewing Guidelines and how to conduct a brief forensic interview, which includes: Phases of the interview, appropriate use of questions, and when/how to stop a field interview. We will also discuss the importance of documentation and how to work with other professionals who are involved with the case. Participants will watch video clips from forensic interviews and show examples of techniques.

11:00-12:30

LUNCH

12:45-2:00

2A The Medical Perspective of Child Neglect: Recognition
Deanna St. Germain, D.O

This session will address the medical indicators of neglect by discussing many types of neglect, including: Supervisory neglect, medical neglect, inadequate food/failure to thrive and emotional/psychological neglect.

2B Suspect Interrogations
Karen Dike

This course will focus on building the case for a suspect interrogation. Content will include preparatory interviews and evidence gathering tools along with the setting of a proper interrogation. Useful props will be considered along with special considerations revolving around the recorded interviews. The confession/denial paradox will be discussed along with the power of written confessions or denials. Finally, how to powerfully articulate the full context of the interview in a written report for prosecution.

2C Trauma and Misdiagnosis in Children
Marji Lind

This training provides a brief overview of trauma, how it affects the brain, and how it can manifest/look like something else. We will also discuss frequent misdiagnosis in children and discuss the concerns of over-medicating children with trauma histories.

2:15-3:30

3A Managing Emotional Mayhem with Conscious Discipline: Part 1
Annette Chastain & Katie DeClue

Self-regulation is the ability to manage your emotional upset and behavior, and is a prerequisite skill for life success. In part one, learn about the Brain State Model which addresses the internal state first, using a neurodevelopmental brain model, so adults and children may learn to self-regulate effectively even during stressful situations.

3B Forensic Photography: Tips, Techniques & Tools: Part 1
Tempie Bartell & Nika Larsen

Attendees will learn the basics of forensic photography with particular emphasis on both SLR and point-and-shoot camera operation/functions. Tips and techniques will be given so that the user will feel confident in fully documenting forensic evidence with clear, crisp and complete photos.
Bring the camera you use in the field.

3C Ruth Case Study: Part 1
Kelsie McDaniel, Dane Jensen, Dave Aydelotte, Greg Retherford, Matt & Janet

This session will highlight a Union County Case in which a 14 year old girl was sexually assaulted by a 16 year old classmate. The panel of presenters will highlight the collaborative approach used to handle this case from its initial report to the final resolution. Speakers will discuss the unique issues that arose in this case, including juveniles in the adult system, suspect interviews of minors and the dynamics of communities and schools. Additionally, the victim's parents will share their experiences including what they found beneficial throughout this process.

4A Managing Emotional Mayhem with Conscious Discipline: Part 2*Annette Chastain & Katie DeClue*

In part two, learn about the cycle of self-sabotage and the self-regulation success cycle. We will then be able to help children, even those who are experiencing trauma, recognize when they have been triggered and begin the self-regulation process.

4B Forensic Photography: Tips, Techniques and Tools: Part 2*Tempie Bartell & Nika Larsen*

Attendees will learn the basics of forensic photography with particular emphasis on both SLR and point-and-shoot camera operation/functions. Tips and techniques will be given so that the user will feel confident in fully documenting forensic evidence with clear, crisp and complete photos.

Bring the camera you use in the field.
